SECOND ANNUAL OWWA 'OYSTER ROAST' A SUCCESS

Ocracoke Working Watermen's Association held its second annual oyster roast on Dec. 29 at the Ocracoke Seafood Company Fish House. "We had a full house," said Robin Payne, spokesperson for OWWA. "Every last oyster was eaten ... we were all out by 4:30." OWWA is a non-profit group of local fishermen, and funds raised at the oyster roast will go towards the construction work at the fish house. "The ice room needs new structural support," Payne said. "The oyster roast money will help pay for the repairs." (Photos courtesy OWWA)
